Understanding Domestic Abuse Training

Welsh Women's Aid is the national charity in Wales working to end domestic abuse and all forms of violence against women. We campaign for and provide advice, support and training on policy and service improvements for survivors, families, and communities. Our federation of specialist organisations provide lifesaving services to survivors of abuse and a range of preventative services.

Welsh Women's Aid are offering Domestic Abuse training to British Sign Language interpreters and translators to enable them to fully understand key issues and be aware of every stage of the reporting and/or support process.
